about me

For more then 7 years I'm working as Frontend- and FullStack-Developer. This profession is without a doubt my dream-job and the dynamic in this field provides new challenges all the time which makes it so desirable to work there for many years to come. Besides personal projects I've done this job for a living in 2 different companies and I can't think of anything better to do for a living. I've got experience and the strong urge to challenge myself, get better and learn new technologies.
